BOARD MET LAST NIGHT

Part of Huston's Minutes Were Expunged.

HIS CRITICISMS DID NOT GO

The Committee Appointed to Compare the Minutes of the Meeting March 6, Obliterated
Huston's Remarks About the Clerk.
Other Important Business.

The board of health met in regular session, with all members present but Huston and Chambers.

The minutes of the regular and executive sessions were read, and in the last-named record the fact was developed that Sanitary Policeman King had been granted a salary of $53 a month, the extra $3 to provide for the disposal of dead animals. There was also a motion making it imperative for the clerk to attend all regular and special meetings of the board, and for him to keep a correct minute of the proceedings. This motion was presumably introduced by Huston.

King said he knew of vaults that the nightsoiler cleaned that were more than half bottles, and, of course they went into the river. The next day the children were down on the river bank picking them up. George suggested that the nightsoiler should get a machine and grind them up before he dumped them into the river. Andrews said they would certainly be the means of infection, as washing the bottles in pure water would not kill the germs; they would still stay in the bottle. The petition was received for consideration.

Goodwin was loaded with books as usual, and started a heart-rending plea for Peach Tree alley, but was stopped in the midst of it by Mr. George, who informed him they had started to sewer the alley on Thursday.

King brought up the Smitbauer matter, and wanted the board to appoint a committee to investigate the affair.

Mayor Gilbert informed him that he couldn't see that the board had anything to do with it; if he and Smitbauer had got into a muddle, he thought they would have to settle it themselves.

King said he was trying to do his duty in regard to the closets, but when he ordered a man to clean up, the man would think there was $1 in it for King.

Goodwin began to talk about collecting from Henry Deidrick for sewerage, but the board thought they had better first see the solicitor and get his views.

Smitbauer at this juncture arrived on the scene looking very pale, but said nothing, and the board adjourned.

A CITY LIGHT PLANT

Is Recommended by the Light Committee.

IT WOULD BE A GREAT SAVING

To the City and Would Not Increase Taxes.
The Committee Met Last Night In Conjunction With the Water Works Trustees and Discussed the Project.

If the city will be guided by the report of the light committee upon the practicability of the city owning and operating a municipal plant, the establishment of an institution is a foregone conclusion.

Members Peake and Stewart, of the councilmanic committee, Horwell was absent, met in a final conference with the water works trustees last night, and presented their report, which, after mature deliberation, was accepted, and in turn will be handed to council and its adoption recommended.

The committee have been untiring in their efforts to complete an estimate as near correct as possible, on the probable cost of erecting and operating a plant, and the figures obtained show that a great saving would follow if the city controlled the light facilities.

The prevailing opinion of a number of authorities, who have given this matter careful consideration, is that a plant of this kind would pay for itself within a few years' time, and that when all indebtedness of the cost of construction was wiped out, the rate for the use of the service would be reduced to an extremely low figure.

These conclusions, based upon facts and figures, were arrived at by the committee, and they realize that the project is perfectly feasible. According to calculations, a far greater number of lights could be furnished to the city at a less cost than is expended at present for the use of lights, and at the same time pay the yearly maturity on bonds, although it was suggested, and finally adopted by the committee, that a sinking fund be established in order to provide for any exigencies that might arise.

The estimates of the entire expense involved in the construction and operating of the plant the committee refuse to make public at present, and the figures will not be given out until they have been turned over to council for consideration.

In the opinion of the committee they do not think that this proposed new move will increase the burden of tax payers.

The question of the most desirable location for the erection of the plant was broached by Peake, who remarked that it should be built on the hill. Superintendent Morley replied that the most suitable location for the plant was adjoining the lower pump house. The advantages derived in building it there are obvious, as the engineer and employees of the pump house could, owing to the close proximity, operate both plants without any inconvenience.

Thus the matter of employing other men would not be necessary, and a great item of expense thereby saved.

The fact that some competition might arise to combat the city in this respect, was mentioned, but in view of the improved machinery and facilities to give better service, it was thought that opposition from the present electric light company would not avail very much.

Clerk Gipner, in commenting on estimates made, said that if the citizens would stand by the plant, in a few years street lights could be furnished free.

The question was then considered in all its phases and then ordered that the report be referred to council at the next meeting.

IN CAMP.

Having a Good Time, and Catching Lots of Fish.

The Jolly Bachelors' camping club are comfortably encamped in substantial quarters on the fork of little Beaver creek, near Williamsport. The boys are catching lots of fish and say that they are enjoying themselves splendidly.

Will Leigh and "Chick" Allison have been installed to look after the culinary department, the duties of which they both perform to the queen's taste. Only one accident has occurred up to present writing. The other day it became necessary to drive a few stakes to secure the tents, and amiable "Chick," by virtue of his long experience with circuses, and wishing to display his sledge swinging proclivities, generously volunteered to drive all the stakes. "Chick" has boasted of possessing unusual skill in the performance of this feat, and grasping the heavy sledge, he swung it with all his might, but alas! "Chick" made a miscalculation. He missed the stake and landed on his foot, and with a howl, dropped the sledge. "Chick" hobbles around on crutches now.

A UNIQUE SERMON

Will be Given to the Deaf Mutes at Wellsville.

A service in the interest of church work among deaf mutes will be held at the Church of the Ascension at Wellsville, on Monday evening, June 15, at 7 o'clock.

A cordial invitation is extended to all interested. Evening prayer will be read by the rector, W. J. Williams, which will be interpreted in the sign language for the deaf mutes worshipping with the congregation, by Rev.

A. W. Mann, general missionary in charge of the Deaf Mute mission in the middle western states. The sermon to follow will give information of due interest concerning the education of deaf mutes, and the work of the Episcopal church in the various schools for that purpose. The service is free for all, but a liberal offering is requested for this native mission work.

A Former Secretary.

Henry W. Stough, who was appointed secretary of the Young Men's Christian association when it was first organized in this city, was ordained on Tuesday evening last at Chicago and now has charge of the Oak Park Congregational church, the Forest avenue branch of the First Congregational church of Chicago.

Moved to This City.

Michael Storrick, of Byesville, has moved his household effects to this city.

The Well May Run.

The water works trustees voted to permit the operation of the Diamond pump at their meeting last night, provided that a return pipe is placed in position, with automatic stops, that will prevent a wholesale waste of water. The trustees also agreed to furnish water for drinking fountains that could be placed in various parts of the city. After July 1, meters will be placed in all livery stables to register consumption of water, and a nominal rate charged.

The minutes of the regular and executive sessions were read, and in the last-named record the fact was developed that Sanitary Policeman King had been granted a salary of $53 a month, the extra $3 to provide for the disposal of dead animals. There was also a motion making it imperative for the clerk to attend all regular and special meetings of the board, and for him to keep a correct minute of the proceedings. This motion was presumably introduced by Huston.

John S. Love bid five cents a load for dumping garbage, and said he would act as officer for three cents. The health officer said he had made arrangements with Newell's to dump it for ten cents a load, and that Coleman wanted it at two loads for five cents. The matter was referred to the health officer, with power to arrange the matter.

The following bills were then referred to council for payment: W. H. Adams, 35c; I. F. Leyde, 50c; C. B. Ogden, $25; J. T. King, $53.

A new finance committee was appointed, consisting of Goodwin, Kaufman and Huston.

The health officer's report showed: Births—males, 13; females, 15. Deaths—males, 6; females, 6. The number of dead animals buried during the month: Horses, 10. He also reported seven cases of typhoid fever and three cases of diphtheria.

The sanitary police had evidently been doing a great deal of work the past month, as he had the longest report in the history of the board: Number notified to clean out vaults, 25; those complying, 20; notices to clean up garbage, 35; notices to clean up manure, 3; prohibiting manure in alleys, 4; persons who violate the 72 hour rule limit on manure, 2; number of nuisances abated without prosecution, 132; amount paid out of salary of sanitary policeman, $3.25; orders to sewer, 12; those complying, 4; orders to abate chicken coop, 2; persons complying, 2.

The sewer commissioners reported 20 closets and drains in bad condition. The report was received, and Goodwin moved that the health officer take the names in alphabetical order and prosecute the parties from day to day until they did clean up. This was passed, and it will cost the people $1 a day until they obey orders.

Huston's criticisms of Clerk Grosshans will not appear on the minute book, and he will think the News Review knew what it was talking about when it said that part of "Huston's minutes were expunged," as the committee in their report last night, after comparing the two minutes, made a few minor corrections of the clerk's book, but did not order any of the Broadway member's expressions placed on file, and Clerk Grosshans that Huston has the satisfaction of knowing that Huston has been "sat upon." The report was received.

Goodwin spoke of the committee appointed to investigate the sanitary condition of the school houses, reporting the Grant street school in a bad sanitary condition. He read a letter from the state secretary of the board of health, stating that it was necessary to make an order to the board of education requiring the necessary changes to be made, and if they failed to do it to commence proceedings against them. The following resolution was then passed: "That the health officer give the board of education legal notice to connect the Grant street school house with a sewer or construct dry closets before Aug. 31.

Ogden introduced the new law in regard to plumbing. After some talk, it was referred to a committee composed of Goodwin, Andrews and the city engineer, to confer with the sewer commissioners to see if they couldn't draw up rules and regulations governing the plumbing all over the city.

Goodwin—King and I have investigated Tanyard run, and it is practically an open sewer, and I therefore introduce on Tuesday evening last at Chicago and now has charge of the Oak Park Congregational church, the Forest avenue branch of the First Congregational church of Chicago.

WHEREAS, It has come to the knowledge of the sanitary officials on well founded rumor that Tanyard run has practically become common property for sewerage purposes, be it

Resolved, That council be urged to take the last report of the health officer from the file, and to act forthwith on the suggestion therein offered to utilize said run for sewer district, No 2.

George Phillips was present, and asked for somewhere to run the water from his hydrant, as it filled up his vault in a short time. Goodwin gave a long history of Eighth street sanitary affairs, and the board passed on.

A committee from Trades council, composed of Messrs. Yant, Phillips and Eells were present, and spoke of a petition Trades council had received from the American Flint Glassworkers union protesting against the habit of children picking bottles up that were thrown on the streets and selling them to saloons and drug stores, as it was an injury to both parties.

King said he knew of vaults that the nightsoiler cleaned that were more than half bottles, and, of course they went into the river. The next day the children were down on the river bank picking them up. George suggested that the nightsoiler should get a machine and grind them up before he dumped them into the river. A CITY LIGHT PLANT

Is Recommended by the Light Committee.

THE RECEPTION

Given by the Members of the Church to Reverend Whitehead.

The farewell meeting given to Reverend Whitehead at the Methodist Protestant church last night was largely attended. A very fine musical program had been arranged, solos being sung by Mrs. Sadie Bowman, Mintie McLane, Professor Harper and David McLane. The Harper quartette rendered a nice selection. After the program was over Charles Risinger, on behalf of the members of the church, presented the pastor with a 100 piece decorated dinner set and table ware. Reverend Whitehead was very much surprised, but responded in a fitting manner, thanking the congregation for their gift. The reverend gentleman will remain in the city until next September.

CHASED WITH A KNIFE

James Butler Goes After Curt Crawford.

HAPPENED EARLY IN THE EVENING

Crawford, at the Request of Mrs. Butler, Who Has Been Ill, Went for a Short Walk With Her—The Lady and Husband Separated Some Time Ago.

There was a small sized sensation on Thompson hill last night, in which James Butler, his wife and Curt Crawford figured. The story, as near as can be learned, is as follows:

Mrs. Butler has been separated from her husband for about nine weeks, he one night ordering her away from home. Together with her two children she went to the home of Mrs. McClure, of Sugar alley, where she has since been boarding. She has been ill for two weeks past, and last night asked a young man by the name of Crawford, who also boards at the house, if he would walk up the hill with her, as she was afraid she would faint.

A few minutes after 7 o'clock they started out together and had arrived at the top of the hill and sat down to rest.

In the meantime it seems Butler had been following the couple, and as soon as they sat down, he came up, Mrs. Butler remarking before that, "there comes Jim."

As the story goes, Butler rushed up to Crawford with a knife in his hand, and that young man fled down over the hill, closely followed by Butler, who, however, was unable to catch him. Mrs. Butler, in the meantime, returning to her boarding house.

The young man was surprised, to say the least, as he thought he was only doing an act of kindness in walking up the hill with Mrs. Butler, and had no thought of trouble, as this is the first time she has been out of the house for over two weeks.

It is probable that a warrant will be sworn out for Butler's arrest, as the affair was witnessed by a large number of people, who say they will prosecute him.

Mrs. Butler left for the home of her parents in Wheeling this morning, and the children will be sent to her later on.

From the story learned of the separation Butler was to blame, as he came home one evening, and because his wife had eaten supper before he arrived, ordered her out of the house. The neighbors say she was compelled at all times to make her own living, as he would not support her. Mr. Butler was sought by the reporter, but could not be found until a late hour. He stated that his wife had run away with a gray-haired peddler about a year ago and was found living with him in Wheeling. He had them both arrested and they were bound over to court, but the husband relented and paid her fine. Since that time she has been writing to several parties and has been exceedingly intimate with several steamboat men. The husband claims he never ordered her out of the house, but begged her to stay for the sake of the children. He says he has heard she was very intimate with Crawford, and went up last night. His little daughter told him where they were, and came upon them in a locust thicket. This angered him and he jumped for Crawford. The husband has been employed at Williams' mill for five years past, and is an industrious workman.

Has Ability as an Artist.

Miss Edith Blanche Nichols, 14 years old, daughter of J. C. Nichols, of Broadway, gives promise of becoming a crayon artist of pronounced ability. EAST LIVERPOOL, O., SATURDAY, JUNE 6

For President,
WILLIAM MCKINLEY,
Of Ohio.

THE SLANDERER.

When this creature, male or female, cowardly and untruthful, attacks you and sayeth all manner of evil against you falsely—go on your way rejoicing and battling for the right, confident that you have the promise that all such poor creatures shall be taken in the net they have set for others, and will become so entangled therein as to be filled with sorrow and useless regret. You cannot afford to be angry with the slanders who unjustly attacks you. Pity them, for they are indeed miserable and pitiable creatures, never rising to the dignity of true manhood or womanhood.

THE EXCURSION.

Will L. Taylor used herculean efforts to make the proposed excursion to St. Louis an assured and flattering success, and states that there was a sufficient number of names subscribed to warrant him in ordering special cars. Now comes the statement at his hands that, so far as the East Liverpool excursion is concerned, the contemplated trip is a failure, as promises were made which have turned out to be nothing but promises, lacking in fulfillment. It is understood that the apparent certainty of the nomination of McKinley on the first ballot has considerable to do with the failure of parties to fulfill their promises to make the trip, while the scarcity of filthy lucre seems to be a second impediment. The only wise way, as a rule, in handling an excursion or excursionists, is to count your chicks after they are hatched; in other words, sell your tickets and have the where-with in your wallet, previous to ordering your palace cars or sleepers. This is no reflection on Will L. Taylor, as he worked like a Trojan for the success of the affair, spending time and money in his earnest endeavor to accomplish the object. Several individuals in our city will be in attendance at the convention.

DOG VS. BICYCLE.

It seems a shame to "button" a good dog and lovers of these fine animals will answer that it is a shame, and a "condemned" one at that. But the average bike rider will assert that every mongrel cur in this city (embracing in this category the nasty pugs which attempt to take a bit out of either the rider's foot, leg, or the pneumatic tire of his wheel) ought to be shot, cremated or "buttoned." A bike rider was passing along one of the thoroughfares yesterday, when nasty and vicious pug dog made a dash at his feet, and in order to avoid being bitten by the ugly brute, the wheelman disengaged his foot from the pedal and attempted to smite the little wretch with his No. 14 brogans, missing the dog, of course, and winding up by dashing into the curbstone, only escaping a nasty fall by a narrow margin. The female owner of the poodle laughed all over her six-by-nine countenance at the discomfiture of the wheelman; but her homely physiognomy became still more unattractive when the bike rider made a dash for a boulder and attempted to smash her dear little dog. Coming up Market street, a second our made an assault upon the wheelman. In this case the rider had far better fortune, as he balanced himself carefully, judged the distance correctly, caught the mongrel under the lower jaw and came nigh sending him to kingdom come, exasperating his owner awfully, but causing the bike rider to rejoice with exceeding great joy. Kill off the curs. Carry a whip. Carry a gun. Carry dynamite. Kill the mongrels.

He Wants a Change.

Reception Given to Mr. Pulitzer In London.

MANY PROMINENT MEN PRESENT.

The Addresses Allude to the Negotiations In the Venezuelan Boundary Question. Cardinal Vaughan Compliments the Guest—Mr. Pulitzer's Reply.

LONDON, June 6.—Representatives of several peace and arbitration societies gave a reception at Morey Lodge to Mr. Joseph Pulitzer, proprietor of The New York World. In addition to the delegates from these societies the company included Cardinal Vaughan, Sir Lewis Morris, Hon. Rev. Carr Glynn, Sir James Reckle, Sir Robert Head Cook, editor of The Daily News, and Mr. Henry Watterson, editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal. A vellum engrossed address was presented to Mr. Pulitzer and was read.

The address alludes to the present apparent pause in the negotiations over the Venezuelan question and hopes to see fresh evidence that the parties are likely to arrive at a settlement. It dwells at length upon the desire of both nations for permanent arbitration and closes with a renewed tribute to Mr. Pulitzer and The World. The reading of the address was much applauded, and a number of speeches followed. Cardinal Vaughan, after complimenting the guest, said:

Your great efforts were widely appreciated. But your task is far from complete. You, with us, must desire and must work for a permanent tribunal. It has been my happiness and my privilege to be here and to add my tribute of respect.

Sir Robert Head Cook, editor of the Daily News, spoke of the services rendered to the profession of journalism by Mr. Pulitzer's action. After several similar speeches Mr. Pulitzer came forward to reply, and was greeted with loud applause. He said:

"I am deeply touched. Unfortunately I am an invalid and under a doctor's orders, therefore I ask permission that my response may be read by a young American friend, my son."

Ralph Pulitzer then read his father's reply, in part as follows:

"I feel that you have come to do honor to a principle and not to a person. I know of no purely moral sentiment that has been advanced in England since the abolition of slavery that appeals so strongly to the mind and heart as this idea of substituting civilized methods of peace and reason for barbarism and needless war."

True Americanism means arbitration. If the great republic across the sea stands for anything it stands for the reign of reason as opposed to the reign of force; for argument, powerful discussion and lawful adjustment as opposed to passion and war. America is proud of the fact that arbitration is an American idea. The war cloud that recently passed over America was only made possible by an unfortunate refusal of arbitration.

But the chief danger was passed when England recognized the American commission now sitting at Washington. That was really the first step toward arbitration. When England accepted our commission, when she made a courteous and tactful offer of facilities, she insured a peaceful settlement of the question. She not only did recognize it, but she also submitted her claim and cast it to with all the evidence in her possession."

CAMPOS-BORRERO AFFAIR.

Believed That the Duel Will Yet Occur. Great Excitement.

MADRID, June 6.—The Campos-Borrero affair continues the sensation of the hour. It appears that the captain general of Madrid went to the grounds of the Marquis of Cabrera, which was the rendezvous of the disputants, and prevented the duel. The marquis tried to stop the captain general from entering his grounds, but the latter asserted his military authority, entered and placed the combatants under arrest. It is believed that the duel will yet occur on the earliest possible occasion. General Borrero has many partisans, especially among the younger officers of the army.

General Borrero accused Marshal Campos of systematically preventing promotion in the army. He asserted that Marshal Campos for the past 20 years had been the irresponsible arbiter of Spanish politics, and had become a sort of mentor to royalty. Changes in the cabinet and of high officials, General Borrero asserted, were often due to his influence. Marshal Campos, he said further, despite the Cuban check, still claims preponderating influence in politics.

International Arbitration Conference.

MONONGLAKE, N. Y., June 6.—At the closing session of the international arbitration conference much interest was manifested. In the absence of ex-Senator Edmunds, Mr. Robert Treat Paine of Boston presided. The business of the conference was concluded by the adoption by a unanimous vote a declaration favoring an international board of arbitration.

A German Bank For Mexico.

CITY OF MEXICO, June 6.—There is much interest in financial circles over the announcement that the Deutsche Bank of Berlin will open a branch here in July, being the first attempt of the German banking interests to secure a portion of the profitable business of this country.

The Reformers' Release Postponed.

PRETORIA, Transvaal, June 6.—The executive council, after a long discussion, has postponed the final decision regarding the release of the four reform leaders, Colonel Francis Rhodes, John Hays Hammond, Lionel Phillips and Misses Agnew Weston, Agnes Slack and Mary Phillips.

CUBAN QUESTION REVIVED.

Senator Morgan Wants Information From the President.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Mr. Morgan gave the senate a spirited revival of the Cuban question, after which most of the day was spent in waiting for conference agreements on appropriation bills. Mr. Morgan urged the adoption of his resolution calling on the president for information of the Americans taken on the Competitor and now under sentence of death at Havana. The senator asserted that the president's inaction was a violation of law. Mr. Morgan declared that congress should not adjourn without authorizing the president to send warships to Cuba to demand the release of the American prisoners.

On the suggestion of Mr. Sherman, chairman of the committee on foreign relations, the senate went into secret session, where, after a further argument by Mr. Morgan, his resolution was placed on the calendar, a parliamentary move equivalent to postponement action. After a brief period of filibustering the immigration bill was made the unfinished business of the senate, although the debate on it was begun. The question of electing senators by the people was discussed by Senators Mitchell, Perkins, Chandler, Palmer and Hawley. Mr. Palmer took occasion to savagely denounce machine rule in politics, particularly in his own state of Illinois, and to express his opposition and defiance of the "machine."

DISPOSED OF TWO CONTESTS.

The House Unseated Two Democrats. Grosvenor's Resolution Adopted.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—The house unseated two more Democrats. Mr. Lockhart from the Seventh North Carolina district and Mr. Downing from the Sixteenth Illinois district and seated in the place of the former Mr. Martin, a Populist, who had been endorsed by the Republicans, and in place of the latter Mr. Rinaker, a Republican. Mr. Downing was the only Democrat from Illinois.

A good deal of partisan feeling was aroused among the Democrats by the ruling of Mr. Payne (Rep., N. Y.), who was temporarily in the chair, and on one or two occasions there was a mild reminder of the turbulent scenes of the Fifty-first congress. The Democrats left the hall in an effort to break a quorum, but Mr. Payne declined to recognize the point of no quorum or to entertain the appeal from his decision.

Mr. Grosvenor's resolution calling on the president and the cabinet ministers for a complete list of the removals from office on March 3, 1893, was adopted.

ARBITRATION FOR MERCHANTS.

The Project Is Endorsed by the Business Men of Germany.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—A matter of much more than usual interest which is just now before the German business world is brought to the attention of the state department by United States Consul Monaghan at Chemnitz. The project is to establish boards of arbitration for merchants similar to those already operating successfully in settling disputes between workmen and their employers.

To this all commercial and trade disputes are referred, and the results have been surprisingly satisfactory to merchants generally, who are saved the expenses of lawsuits, the expenditure of valuable time in tedious litigation, and, best of all, know that their cases are being settled by fair and expert judges, who, from their familiarity with commercial practices and the particular lines of business involved in the disputes, are vastly more capable of arriving at a sound conclusion than any civil judge.

THE ANERLY MYSTERY.

Believed to Be Another Filibustering Expedition—Dynamite on Board.

BALTIMORE, June 6.—John Perrez, a wealthy Cuban cattle dealer, is in this city, having narrowly escaped being summarily shot in his native land on the charge of having furnished arms to the insurgents. Mr. Perrez was arrested in Santi Spiritus, Cuba, Feb. 24, and thrown into jail. A few days later he was told that he was to be shot on June 14.

By the liberal use of money among the prison officials and through the influence of powerful friends on the outside, however, he was granted "provisional freedom," which meant that he must remain within reach of the Spanish authorities. Becoming alarmed at the fate of others who had been treated likewise he fled to this country. Of his imprisonment he says:

"They do what they please with prisoners. I saw a wounded man suffering from his wounds and without appetite for ordinary food. Some of us who had money wanted to have a chicken boiled for him. We would pay for it. The officers would not allow it.

"They don't waste paper and ink to write any sentences of death. They don't show you any writing. All they do is to tell you to go into the 'black room,' and it is all over with you. They do not allow the prisoners trials."

THE ANERLY MYSTERY.

Believed to Be Another Filibustering Expedition—Dynamite on Board.

NEW YORK, June 6.—There was an air of mystery about the departure of the steamship Anerly that smacked of a filibustering expedition. The fact that the steamship carried an immense quantity of dynamite for a port not far from Havana lent color to the report that the big vessel would land war stores and a complement of men on Cuban soil at a place where General Quesada had agreed to receive them.

The Anerly is engaged in Central American trade. No one not having especial business with the master of the vessel was allowed to board the steamship. The Anerly, which is a British steamship, was regularly cleared with general cargo and 40 tons of powder and dynamite. Her agents asserted that the powder and dynamite were consigned to Sylvester Miller at Port Barrios, and that no one outside of the regular crew were on board the vessel.

SCOTCH-IRISH IN SESSION.

Robert Bonner Again Elected President. Hot Fight for Next Convention.

HARRISBURG, June 6.—Robert Bonner of New York was for the eighth time elected president of the Scotch-Irish congress, now in session here. Detroit, Nashville, St. Louis and San Francisco sat in claims for the next meeting of the congress. The executive committee will make a selection before adjournment.

Dr. McCook called attention to the fact that the house in which Robert Fulton was born in Lancaster county, Pa., is about to be torn down and it was directed that Governor Hastings' attention be called to this fact, with a view to obtaining legislation by which the state could come into possession of the building.

Reformed Church Synod Adjourns.

DAYTON, O., June 6.—The twelfth triennial session of the general synod of the Reformed church has adjourned. The case of Rev. E. Bates vs. the Pittsburgh synod was considered. Sensational testimony was introduced about Dr. Bates' relations with women. Bates was suspended two years ago by his synod, which reversed his appeal. The action of the classics in suspending Bates was sustained by the general synod by a vote of 94 to 18.

Offered a Reward of $3,000.

MILWAUKEE, June 6.—The street railway company has offered a reward of $3,000 for evidence which will result in the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who shot the two employees of the company on the Howell avenue line. There is little hope for the wounded motorman, John Breen. Fully 20 shots were fired into the car. An explosive missile was thrown into a car filled with ladies on Wells street by somebody in a crowd. The car was filled with smoke and powder fumes and the panicstricken women immediately deserted the car and walked to their homes.

A TALK WITH WEYLER

Consul Lee's Conference With the Spanish General.

EXPLAINED THOS. DAWLEY'S CASE.

An American Artist Imprisoned In Moro Castle—Weyler Promised to Attend to This Case as Soon as Possible—The Doings of the Insurgents.

HAVANA, June 6.—General Fitzhugh Lee, the new consul general for the United States, has had a long conference with Captain General Weyler.

Captain General Lee has interested himself in the case of the American artist, Thomas Dawley, confined in Moro castle incommunicado. When he called on General Weyler with his predecessor he explained to Weyler that the artist had been sent to take pictures for newspapers in the United States.

General Weyler promised General Lee to recommend that this case be attended to at the earliest opportunity. He did not authorize General Lee to see Dawley at the fortress, as the law prohibits prisoners being seen and its provisions could not be evaded without considerable trouble.

He declared, however, that General Lee might see the prisoner at the palace.

Both parties to this interview declare that the coming of General Lee to Cuba is with the purpose of healing whatever difficulties exist between the respective governments.

It is reported that the insurgent bands of Carrillo, Marabala, Equero, Veitia, Ferrer and the negro, Gonzales, numbering altogether 3,000 men, have left the neighborhood of Remedios and have passed near Taguayabon and Placetas in the direction of Sagua. They are trying to effect a junction with Zayas and Alemán, six miles from Villa Clara, with the intention of passing again into the province of Matanzas.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., SATURDAY, JUNE 6.

For President,
WILLIAM MCKINLEY,
Of Ohio.

THE SLANDERER.

When this creature, male or female, cowardly and untruthful, attacks you falsely—go on your way rejoicing and battling for the right, confident that you have the promise that all such poor creatures shall be taken in the net they have set for others, and will become so entangled therein as to be filled with sorrow and useless regret. You cannot afford to be angry with the slanders who unjustly attacks you. Pity them, for they are indeed miserable and pitiable creatures, never rising to the dignity of true manhood or womanhood.

THE EXCURSION.

Will L. Taylor used herculean efforts to make the proposed excursion to St. Louis an assured and flattering success, and states that there was a sufficient number of names subscribed to warrant him in ordering special cars. Now comes the statement at his hands that, so far as the East Liverpool excursion is concerned, the contemplated trip is a failure, as promises were made which have turned out to be nothing but promises, lacking in fulfillment. It is understood that the apparent certainty of the nomination of McKinley on the first ballot has considerable to do with the failure of parties to fulfill their promises to make the trip, while the scarcity of filthy lucre seems to be a second impediment. The only wise way, as a rule, in handling an excursion or excursionists, is to count your chicks after they are hatched; in other words, sell your tickets and have the where-with in your wallet, previous to ordering your palace cars or sleepers. This is no reflection on Will L. Taylor, as he worked like a Trojan for the success of the affair, spending time and money in his earnest endeavor to accomplish the object. Several individuals in our city will be in attendance at the convention.

DOG VS. BICYCLE.

It seems a shame to "button" a good dog, and lovers of these fine animals will answer that it is a shame, and a "condemned" one at that. But the average bike rider will assert that every mongrel cur in this city (embracing in this category the nasty pugs which attempt to take a bit out of either the rider's foot, leg, or the pneumatic tire of his wheel) ought to be shot, cremated or "buttoned." A bike rider was passing along one of the thoroughfares yesterday, when nasty and vicious pug dog made a dash at his feet, and in order to avoid being bitten by the ugly brute, the wheelman disengaged his foot from the pedal and attempted to smite the little wretch with his No. 14 boggans, missing the dog, of course, and winding up by dashing into the curbstone, only escaping a nasty fall by a narrow margin. The female owner of the poodle laughed all over her six-nine countenance at the discomfiture of the wheelman; but her homely physiognomy became still more unattractive when the bike rider made a dash for a boulder and attempted to smash her dear little dog. Coming up Market street, a second cur made an assault upon the wheelman. In this case the rider had far better fortune, as he balanced himself carefully, judged the distance correctly, caught the mongrel under the lower jaw and came nigh sending him to kingdom come, exasperating his owner awfully, but causing the bike rider to rejoice with exceeding great joy. Kill off the curs. Carry a whip. Carry a gun. Carry dynamite. Kill the mongrels.

DUN'S TRADE REVIEW.

Factories Still Waiting For a Rush of Business.

THE CROPS ARE VERY FAVORABLE.

Much Uncertainty Regarding Prices of Iron and Steel—Exports of Wheat Have Been Liberal—Business Likely to Improve After the Conventions.

NEW YORK, June 6.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly Review of Trade, issued today, says: It is highly suggestive that, with as little help as there is from new business, markets are so nearly maintained. Summer is close at hand and with new crops promising well and old stocks large, it is no wonder that the farm products are cheap. The factories and mills are still waiting for the rush of business seen last year, and in spite of narrow orders at present are holding on with much confidence. The opinion gains ground that more active business is to be expected after the conventions have been held and the safety and sufficiency of crops have been ascertained.

Decline in wheat has helped marketing the surplus so that exports have been more liberal; from Atlantic ports 2,227,411 bushels wheat for the week, flour included, against 1,555,308 last year, while western receipts were 2,000,475 bushels, against 1,726,457 last year, increased much less than heretofore. Estimates entitled to most confidence point to a probable yield of 500,000 bushels wheat.

The hardest problem of the day is whether iron and steel prices can be maintained as they have been during the past week. The Nail associations have failed thus far to win over competitors who undersell them, and are able to manufacture 75,000 kegs against every 100,000 by concerns in the combination. The Bar association asks more for iron than selling price for steel bars. Openheath billets are more freely sold at Pittsburgh below the price asked for Bessemer, and middle men are still selling Bessemer billets about $1 below the price fixed by the pool. Naturally the doubt regarding maintenance of prices greatly checks the demand for the present, but belief that a much larger demand is certain, and will not be delayed, is the one thing which prevents considerable decline.

Failures for the week have been 234 in the United States, against 195 last year, and 29 in Canada, against 25 last year.

THE STATUSES UNVEILED.

Hancock and Meade Monuments Dedicated With Imposing Ceremonies.

GETTYSBURG, Pa., June 5.—An immense crowd of veterans of the late war and others gathered on the battlefield here to witness the unveiling of the splendid equestrian statues erected by the state of Pennsylvania in honor of the memory of Generals George S. Meade and Winfield S. Hancock, two Pennsylvania soldiers, the record of whose gallant participation in the battle of Gettysburg will forever live in American history.

The ceremonies began with the unveiling of the Meade memorial. This duty was performed by Master George Gordon Meade, a grandson of the dead hero. As the drapery fell from the beautiful statue a salute was fired by light battery C. U. S. A., which came here from the Washington barracks under command of Captain Lancaster. This was followed by the dedicatory services, conducted by George G. Meade post No. 1, Pennsylvania G. A. R. General Gobin of Lebanon on behalf of the commission which supervised the erection of the statues, formally transferred the memorial to Governor Hastings, who received it on behalf of the state.

An oration by General David McMurtrie Gregg of Reading, the famous commander of the Second cavalry division in the battle of Gettysburg, concluded the Meade ceremonies.

In the afternoon the Hancock statue was unveiled. General Gobin transferred the statue to the state and Governor Hastings received it. The oration was delivered by General Henry H. Bingham, a congressman from Philadelphia who was on General Hancock's staff at Gettysburg.

Among the distinguished men present were: Major General Nelson A. Miles, commanding the United States army; Brigadier General John E. Brooke, U. S. A., who commands the department of the Plate; Colonel George Meade, the son of General Meade; Lieutenant Colonel William Brooke Rawle and Major Edward Carpenter of Philadelphia and Colonel Finley Anderson of New York, who was on General Hancock's staff.

General Daniel E. Sickles of New York sent a letter expressing his regret and eulogizing in patriotic language the heroes whose memory was honored.

CLOUDBURST IN KANSAS.

Several Towns Flooded and Much Damage Done to Property.

SALINA, KAN., June 6.—Gypsum City, a small town 17 miles southeast of here, was visited by a cloudburst. The town was flooded and people were compelled to flee from their houses. Water was running through the main street two feet deep. Farms along Gypsum creek for miles are covered with from four to ten feet of water, and the farmers are leaving their houses in boats.

At Brookville, 18 miles west, the water is nearly as bad. John Curtis, his wife and their three children and the family of a railroader named Shiek barely escaped drowning.

The Smoky Hill river is rapidly rising, and an inundation is feared in this city. At Ellsworth a repetition of last year's flood, when great damage was done, is feared.

A State of Anarchy in Crete.

LONDON, June 6.—The Times has a dispatch from Athens which says that telegrams from the Island of Crete indicate a state of anarchy in the whole western portion of the island. In numerous villages the Turks are besieged by the insurgent Christians. Whenever the Mohammedans are in a commercial traveler and was out of the city at the

A TRAGIC SHOOTING.

One Patient of the Central Insane Asylum Wounds Another.

COLUMBUS, June 6.—There has been a tragic shooting affair at the Central insane asylum. The participants were Walter Joy, received from Licking county in 1889, and Thomas Cochran of Delaware county, who arrived at the institution in 1892. Both are chronic patients but have been regarded as harmless.

Cochran is an epileptic, and for that reason has been closely watched. He has been allowed to go where he desired, as it was thought he had no violent symptoms.

Both patients were seated upon benches some distance apart, when Joy, suddenly arising, rushed over to Cochran and fired directly at his head with the revolver which he drew from a hip pocket. Cochran fell to the ground and Joy was quickly overcome by Attendants M. R. Matthews, John Lutz and J. H. Freshwater. They disarmed him and locked him in a strong ward. The wound inflicted is just above the right ear of Cochran, but did not penetrate the skull, and is not fatal. The fact that Joy was regarded as a harmless patient explains the access he had to a source of procuring such a weapon as that used. There had been no previous trouble between the patients.

A MINISTER RESIGNS.

Rev. Eugene Brooks of the Church of Christ Resigns.

FINDLAY, O., June 6.—Rev. Eugene Brooks, pastor of the Church of Christ, in this city, who gained notoriety by publicly calling the jurors in the Eben-Powell case "asses," has tendered his resignation because of the opposition of some of the prominent members of his church, which was occasioned by his utterances.

Rev. Brooks also gave another reason for resigning. It was that he had become convinced that the Bible taught divine healing of the body as well as the soul by prayer, and he desired to preach that doctrine, which, he said, he could not do if he remained with the Church of Christ denomination.

To Investigate Electrocution.

COLUMBUS, June 6.—The board of penitentiary managers finished its monthly session, Warden Coffin and President Cherrington were appointed to confer with Colonel A. G. Patton in reference to the employment of Ohio convicts to manufacture hollowware. Warden Coffin and the electrician were authorized to go to New York and investigate the mode of electrocution there, and the board will arrange to go later. E. R. Jackson was appointed a guard from Huron county.

Arrested on a Charge of Perjury.

DAYTON, O., June 6.—William Wilson Stubbs, a young man residing in the southern part of the city, has been arrested on the charge of perjury. The affidavit charges that Stubbs swore that Ellen C. Knight, whom he subsequently married, was of the age of 18, in order to procure a marriage license. The charge was preferred by the girl's father, and in default of bail young Stubbs was committed to jail.

Lost in the St. Louis Tornado.

MIDDLETOWN, O., June 6.—A message was received here stating that Prof. Eikenberry, formerly of this city and proprietor of a business college in the Sorg opera house building, was one of the victims of the St. Louis tornado. Mr. Eikenberry was a bookkeeper for Liggett & Meyers' tobacco factory, and was in the office of that concern when he met his death. The body was shipped to his home in Eton.

Poor Prospects For Wheat.

COLUMBUS, June 6.—The Ohio department of agriculture reports that the prospects for wheat has considerably diminished since May 1, at which time the prospect was but 55 per cent of an average crop. The present prospect shows a decline of six points since the May 1 estimate. This decline has been furthered by the ravages of Hessian fly, which is reported from nearly every section of the state.

Talk of Lynching Him.

METTLING, O., June 6.—Bertha Douglas, a 16-year-old girl, has been assaulted by Otis Rowe while passing through an alley near her home. Her screams brought assistance, but Rowe escaped, and officers and citizens are now on his track. Lynching is talked of in the event of his being caught. Miss Douglas is in a serious condition. Rowe is a married man.

A meeting was held and S. P. Penn, ex-president of the Cleveland association, delivered an address of welcome. Mr. W. C. Douglas of Boston responded.

Big Gas Well Struck.

CHILLICOTHE, O., June 6.—A big gas well has been struck on the lands owned by the Logan Natural Gas company of this city. The well is located near Logan, O., and is reported to flow 5,000,000 cubic feet of gas a day. It has been plugged up and will be held as a reserve well.

A Cat With Eight Feet.

DELAWARE, O., June 6.—Miss Edna Webster, daughter of ex-County Auditor Charles Webster, is the owner of a cat that is a freak in its own family. It is in the prime of health and life, and is supplied with double feet all around, having eight feet to handle instead of four.

WOOSTER, O., June 6.—The One Hundred and Twentieth regiment, O. V. I., held its twenty-eighth annual reunion at Creston. An even 100 members responded at rollcall. Next year the regiment will meet at Fredericksburg, Wayne county.

A Fatal Mistake.

HE SNEEZED A BULLET.

Familiar Experience of a Man Who Was Wounded in the Civil War.

Colonel Sidney Cooke of Herrington, Kan., one of the managers of the National Soldiers' home, tells of a peculiar experience in the army during the civil war. At the outbreak of the war he was a strapping New England boy, with strength and vitality which stood him well during his army life.

George Hamilton called at the office this morning and presented us with a report of the proceedings of the Ohio Institution for the Deaf and Dumb. The report is in book form and contains cuts of the various buildings and departments, and a handsome half tone of the board of the institution, of which Mr. Hamilton is a member.

The contract for the erection of the new German Lutheran church has been given to John Cain and the masonry work was awarded to J. C. Kerr. A quantity of stone to be used on the foundation of the building arrived from Cleveland today. Excavations will be commenced at once. The new place of worship will be completed the latter part of October.

The library committee met last night and the reports from the different subcommittees showed the work as progressing nicely. The meeting was taken up principally in the discussion of the best plans to be presented to the meeting of contributors, and the best measures to be adopted in order to secure financial support in the future. The committee will meet next Wednesday evening.

Cooke had a long convalescence and finally recovered sufficiently to be sent to Andersonville prison, where he suffered, in addition to the privations of prison life, great pain from his wound. This suffering continued even after his release and his discharge from the army at the close of the war.

"Ain't you dead, Yank?" asked the Confederate as he ceased tugging to remove the boots from the feet of the wounded boy. On being assured that Cooke was not dead a compromise was effected. The Confederate brought the Union soldier some water and carried him to a Confederate surgeon. In return he secured the coveted boots.

Arrangements are being made for the second annual picnic of the Musicians union No. 77, which will be held in National park on June 22. The day will be spent in music, dancing and social enjoyments. A fine full orchestra will furnish the music for the pavilion, while both Haynes' and Manley's bands, as well as various other organizations of the city, will be in attendance. The day will be a gala one, and nothing will be left undone to make it a flattering success.

The work of placing down the pavement on Calcutta road will be commenced Monday.

Representative P. M. Ashford, of Salineville, was in the city on a private business transaction yesterday afternoon.

The members of the Long's Run Presbyterian church at Calcutta held a festival in the grove nearby, last night, which was highly enjoyed.

John Owen, of Sixth street, who lost a fox terrier several days since, had the animal returned to him yesterday. He advertised in the News Review.

While rounding the corner at the intersection of East Market and Broadway last night, Charles Bauman, of Sixth street, was thrown from his wheel and roughly shaken.

A cyclist, whose name was not learned, collided with Harry Bentz, also riding a wheel, at the corner of Sixth street and Broadway last night. The rim of the former's wheel was mashed.

The Our Boys baseball club have organized and arranged to play the Nonpareils, of Beaver Falls, at the latter place, June 13. Fred Millwood is manager, and Clyde Lyons captain.

Theodore Bradshaw left for Chicago last night in response to a telegram announcing the dangerous illness of his brother, Eugene, who resides in that city. The latter person was formerly a resident of this place, and is well known here.

David Wallace, a kiln builder, has contracted with a Bradford, Pa., brick manufacturing firm, for the erection of two new kilns at the latter place. Mr. Wallace and a party of workmen will leave in two weeks to begin the work.

The river has become so low that the Virginia was unable to take on any freight at this point yesterday. The latter boat and the Lorena are both due down this evening. The Ben Hur, Key-stone and Ruth will pass up tomorrow.

Both patients were seated upon benches some distance apart, when Joy, suddenly arising, rushed over to Cochran and fired directly at his head with the revolver which he drew from a hip pocket. Cochran fell to the ground and Joy was

ROCKINGHAM POTTERY

Its First Manufacture In the United States

AT BENNETT'S PIONEER POTTERY

In East Liverpool Fifty-Seven Years Ago. An Interesting Article on the Gradually Degenerating Ware by Barber—Specimens of the Old Manufacture Are Few.

Nearly every one is familiar with the common brown mottled pottery known as Rockingham or "rock" ware, now despised, but at one time held in high repute. Where it is now seen only in dwellings of the humbler sort, or relegated to the kitchen regions of the well-to-do, it once graced the tables of the wealthy, and this is the story of its rise and fall:

In the year 1745 a pottery for the manufacture of common earthenware was established on a portion of the estate of the Marquis of Rockingham, near Swinton, England. Various sorts of wares were made, and toward the end of the last century a white earthenware was produced, which was covered with a beautiful mottled or streaked brown glaze, to which the name of "brown china," or "Rockingham," was given. The ware attracted considerable attention and soon came into great favor. It is said that George IV, while prince regent, took a great fancy to it, and Rockingham china at once became extremely fashionable. The ware continued to be made at the Swinton works until their close in 1842. As is so frequently the case, however, the great demand for the new product, particularly in the form of coffee and tea pots, caused it gradually to degenerate, both in the character of the workmanship and the quality of the materials, and it is difficult for us to realize, when we see the commonplace Rockingham of the present day, that a century ago it ranked with the most beautiful and artistic productions of the potter's art. The forms of the pieces were at first ornate and chaste, and the heavy, variegated glazing, of unsurpassed richness, was produced by carefully repeated, 'dippings' and firings in the kiln. No wonder that the tea pots from the Royal Rockingham China works were supposed to impart a purer and better flavor to Oriental beverage than any other ware.

Not until about 1839 was the production of Rockingham attempted in the United States. James Bennett introduced it at East Liverpool, Ohio, at his Pioneer pottery, which was built in that year, and the manufacture of the ware was the beginning of the industry, which has since increased to such enormous proportions in that town. Mr. Bennett was an Englishman, who had learned the potters trade in Staffordshire, and when he came to this country he introduced English methods here. He sent for his three brothers, and for a time they were associated in business with him at East Liverpool, and afterward at Birmingham, a suburb of Pittsburgh, Pa., to which place the works were moved in 1844. We have no samples of Messrs. Bennett's East Liverpool designs, but there are still in existence copies of a Druid's head water pitcher from their Pittsburgh establishment, an occasional design with a modelled head beneath the lip and a serpent handle, well potted and beautifully glazed.—Barber.

Mr. G. A. Stillson, a merchant of Tampico, Ill., writes, August 10, 1891: "Foley's Kidney cure is meeting with wonderful success. It has cured some cases here that physicians pronounced incurable. I myself am able to testify to its merits. My face today is a living picture of health, and Foley's Kidney cure has made it such. I had suffered 27 years with the disease, and today I feel 10 years younger than I did one year ago. I can obtain some wonderful certificates of its medical qualities."

Another Local Telephone Company Discontinues Business.

LaGrange, Ill., Call.

The LaGrange Automatic Telephone company is a relic of the past. After a service of nearly two years the enterprise has proven profitless, and the company has disposed of its plant for a nominal sum, barely sufficient to cover the indebtedness of the company.

The LaGrange company was first organized for the purpose of installing the Strowger automatic system on telephones in the village, which were expected to work automatically and without the services of an attendant at the central office. This system was found not to work satisfactorily, and later another took its place. Added to this the Chicago Telephone company was forbidden through its charter from the Bell company, to connect with them for outside purposes, and this to a great extent lessened its value to people doing business in the city. As soon as the Chicago company received permission to place their phones in the village, there was naturally a falling off of subscribers to the local system in favor of the one that could furnish many additional advantages, and the final result was apparent that the home people could not long retain prestige.

Some of the stockholders of the automatic system are very bitter toward the council for allowing opposition after they had invested their money for the benefit of the village, but the demand for a Chicago connection was such that the board had no other alternative but to accede to them and allow the Chicago people a meager foothold.
